Hubbell Metals Inc. Plans New Addition

New Medical Building, Automatic Car Wash in May's $645,394 Permits

An 8000-square-foot extension to the Hubbell Metal plant, 1100 N. Dearborn, is to begin this week, S. M. Wilson & Co., contractors, announced.

A building permit for the project, issued last week by Earl Bloomquist, city building inspector, listed the cost at $600,000. Completion will depend upon the rate of delivery of steel. The building will have a steel frame and steel skin.

A plant spokesman said it will provide for additional crane services and railroad facilities inside the building, will provide for more working, storage and warehousing space and will pave the way for the possible addition of new machinery.

Howard H. Hubbell, board chairman headquartered in St. Louis, recently announced that the firm had secured a $12 million long-term capital loan to be used for inventory, accounts receivable, additional machinery and plant expansion. Included in plans is the installation of a 15-ton crane system here, with the new building and the crane operation is cost about $100,000.

25 Drinkers Undisturbed Patron Pauses, Pulls Pistol To Stage $218 Tavern Holdup

An armed robber in his mid-fifties, toothless and his face pockmarked, is being sought for a daring $218 holdup staged at 1:35 a.m. Friday at the 530 Club tavern, operated by George Darling and his wife, Marie, at 520 Madison avenue.

Madison police learned from Mrs. Darling, who handed the man the currency from the cash register, that he was of this build, 160 pounds, about five feet seven inches tall, with gray-brown hair and a large nose. He wore a dark suit, dark hat with snap brim, and a light shirt, and was armed with a black automatic pistol. He may have spent a long period in confinement.

Between 25 and 30 other customers were in the tavern during that half-hour in which the holdup sat at the bar. None realized that a holdup was in progress until it had been completed, police said.

After consuming two beers, the man called Mrs. Darling to the bar, and asked her to get him a drink. He then told her he was asleep. The man drew the pistol from a pocket of his clothing and held it in his right hand.

When he said he wanted all the money from the cash register, she thought it was a joke, but took it seriously and complied after he had repeated it a third time. He warned that "if I blow your brains out" if she did not follow his orders.

After obtaining the money, he took Mrs. Darling by the arm and walked with her to the front door, meanwhile holding the gun against her ribs. He said she must leave with him and again threatened her, but she told him, "You'll have to kill me. I'm not going with you." He then left, escaping on foot.

Quid-City police were alerted but could not locate him. He may have been in another Madison tavern earlier Thursday night.

A Missouri truck driver was crushed to death and a Wood River woman motorist was hospitalized here about 10 a.m. Friday in a collision at the U.S. Bypass 66-40 and Route 111 intersection east of Mitchell.

The fatal crash occurred only a few hours before the state-wide "Red Ribbon" drive for the Memorial Day holiday.

Killed when pinned under his overloaded truck was Charles Tisus, 55, of Maplewood, Mo., driver for a meat packing firm. Admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital with multiple contusions and abrasions was Mrs. Rosalie Zottie, 80, of Wood River.

Witnesses told state troopers the auto was going east on the bypass at 10 a.m. when it was being operated north on Route 111 and was making a turn. The truck, a 1960 Chevrolet, was from the cab and the truck rolled on top of him. He was pronounced dead at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Bids Sought On Contract Postal Station Downtown

Bids for the conduct of a postal contract station for a three-year period beginning July 1, 1965, will be accepted at the Granite City post office, 2330 Madison avenue, until 5 p.m. Monday, June 22. Overbeck announced Friday.

The contract station is to be located in the vicinity of 19th street and Edison avenue.

Bid forms are available at the main post office. Further details are available from him, the postmaster said.

Contract stations often are operated by existing businesses in designated areas of their offices, Overbeck explained. They obtain stamps and other supplies from the main office and are able to provide partial postal services. Their payment by the government is based on the bid they submit.

The proposal is regarded as the postal department's answer to requests for establishment of branch post offices in the town business district. A contract station would be more limited in scope than a branch station.

Pontoon Beach Board Sets $25 Truck Fee

A drayage firm license fee of $25 a year was established Thursday night by the board of trustees of the village of Pontoon Beach.

Passage of the ordinance was delayed earlier because of an additional fee for extra trucks operated by a firm. The board decided to maintain a uniform annual fee for all businesses.

In accordance with this program, the junk yard licensing fee was amended to set the fee at $25.

The board, presided over by Thomas Stalcoff, president, also adopted an electrical code to provide for inspections of electrical installations. There will be no fees.

Stalcoff announced the village's first fix-up, paint-up campaign will be started today and continue through Aug. 30 in order to improve the appearance of the village. He said the DeWitt Paint Co. was the only firm to respond to a request for assistance and has offered to sell paint at a reduced price to village residents participating in the program.

WHICH ROUTE BEST TO THE WORLD'S FAIR?

What is the best way to drive to the New York World's Fair? Is the Turnpike route faster, but more expensive? How does that route compare with the more southerly route of Highway 40 and Interstate 70?

To provide the latest information, two Automobile Club of Missouri travel experts recently made the trip to compare the two routes. The round trip was made via the southern route from St. Louis and return over the northern turnpike roads. The two routes merge east of Pittsburgh at the New Stanton Interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The question really becomes "Which is the best way to get to New Stanton?" as the routes are identical from there east to Flushing Meadows where the Fair is located.

Comparing total mileage of the two routes from St. Louis to New Stanton, the northern route is 158.6 miles longer than the shorter southern route. The turnpike route makes use of U.S. 66, Interstate 55, the Tri-State Parkway and parts of the Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania turnpikes. It covers a distance of 770.4 miles of which 561.1 miles meet Interstate or toll road standards.

The southern route following U.S. 40 and Interstate 70 through Indianapolis and Columbus, covers 612.2 miles of which 198.1 miles meet Interstate standards.

Most Economical
Driving time on the two routes is about the same. Actual driving time via the Chicago route was 12 hours and 33 minutes, and 12 hours and eight minutes on the Highway 40 route. Comparing the cost of gasoline and tolls, the southern route is more economical. On the northern route, the Auto Club men used 49.4 gallons of gas costing $15.33, and the other way they used 37.7 gallons of gas costing $11.02.

Tolls on the northern route, from St. Louis to New Stanton were $7.65, compared to only 15 cents on the southern route. The fee to cross the Veterans Bridge in St. Louis, from St. Louis to New Stanton, turnpike tolls are: Veterans Bridge, 15 cents; Indiana Turnpike, 70 cents; Indiana, $2.50; Ohio, $3.30 and Pennsylvania, 80 cents.

Whether the northern or southern route is taken, it becomes the same from New Stanton to New York. Tolls are $5.05 covering $3.10 on the rest of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, $1.45 on the New Jersey Turnpike, and 50 cents for the Lincoln Tunnel into New York.

Taking into account all tolls paid on the northern route from St. Louis to New York costs were $12.75. On the southern route, tolls amounted to $5.20.

Amusement was made of the quarterly meeting of United Presbyterian Women on Monday June 8, at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

Missionary names were read by Mrs. Kaseberg and prayers were offered for them. The study for the morning was from Chapter Five of "The What You Are" given by Mrs. Louise Anderson. The meeting was closed with the Lord's prayer.

Immediately following the meeting, those present attended the 47th anniversary luncheon of the Presbyterian Women's Association at the Mitchell Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Henry Moore, world service chairman of the Alton Presbytery, was guest speaker.

CUB SCOUT KNOT TYING CONTEST
Cub Scout Pack Seven held a regular meeting at the St. Joseph's school room Friday.

The meeting was opened with prayer led by Andy Timko. Cubmaster Russell House conducted a contest in knot tying, with David Geisler winning.

Next month, a prize will be offered for the most interesting example of nature that is brought to the meeting—preferably not living.

Timko conducted the business meeting and the boys reported on their trip to the Cahokia state park last Wednesday.

This month was Indian month for the cubs, and Mark Danheiser and Toby Lopez gave demonstrations and set up displays on Indian customs. Danheiser had made moccasins by hand, and Lopez modeled an Indian costume complete with necklace.

Frank Kittle was awarded his bobcat pin at the meeting. Refreshments were provided and served by Mrs. Russell House. The evening was closed with prayer led by Timko.

Miss Blackburn Turns Table on Former Students at Farewell-Recognition Banquet

"You couldn't have done a better thing—Nothing warms me more than this scholarship you are going to make available to a deserving speech student."

Those were Miss Mary Blackburn's words as she bid farewell to 250 admirers at the recognition banquet given in her honor Thursday evening at Granite City high school. Miss Blackburn, a nationally-known speech teacher, is retiring next week after 45 years service in the Granite City school system.

In addition to her many former students and present students in attendance, were former Supt. Paul A. Grigsby, Supt. Harold Kaiser, who is resigning, new Supt. Russell D. Johnson, and Miss Mary Luther.

Announcement was made by Jon Dressel, chairman of the Mary Blackburn Scholarship Fund campaign, that over $2000 had been subscribed and more money was coming in. The scholarship will be established for Northwestern University which has an outstanding speech department.

"Other Side Of The Coin"

Miss Blackburn gave the attentive audience "the other side of the coin" as she termed it.

First, she conducted the program, aided by former students, James Bandy and Robert Butler, by conducting a roll call of former students who were called upon to recall incidents on speech trips, recite poetry, readings or play parts and even sing songs and demonstrate the "famous" gesture chart.

Among those called upon were Irby Todd, Lester Pehling, who was not present, Harold Thomas, C. E. Townsend, who was not present, Edna Habekost Bickel, Harry Marshall, Lawrence McCauley, Marie Cariss Klein, Francis Judd, James Holland, Howard Wilson, Charles McCollum, Robert Butler, James Bandy, Betty Jane Holland Grossman, Joseph Brennan, Randall Robertson, Inez Payne Bradshaw, Burton Bernard, Margaret Ann Lueders.

RECOGNITION-FAREWELL BANQUET held Thursday night to honor Miss Mary Blackburn, who is retiring after 45 years in the English and speech department at Granite City high school. ments committee, presented her with a certificate from the Bech Candy Co. in recognition of community service. Miss Blackburn's classes have raised funds by selling the firm's candies for 43 years.

Another certificate was presented by A. But Harris of Tri-City American Legion Post 113 in recognition of her 21 years service in aiding the post with its Americanism oratorical contests. "We had a national winner—Burton Bernard in 1943—and two state winners among seven finalists in that period. We in the American Legion will miss you."

The third award was the scholarship announcement by Dressel.

Farewell Talk

After hearing the tributes to her, Miss Blackburn spoke briefly. "The people of Granite City have been good to me ever since my first class of eight speech students," and she called upon any of those persons to stand. Present were Mrs. Richard Kraft and Mrs. Gerald Broadway.

"It's my privilege to say thank you to all of you," Miss Blackburn continued.

"I owe a great debt to the citizens of Granite City and to the parents of my students. I've had a wonderful time these 45 years. I've had more fun than you'll ever know."

"Good night."

"I'll have memories from tonight to last forever—and I'll be back."

Before her farewell talk had concluded, Miss Blackburn thanked those on the program—Sister Mary Michelle Wittveng, Charles McCollum and other members of the arrangements committee—Mrs. Sidney Grossman, Mrs. Curtis Green, Mrs. McCollum, Miss Mary Luther, Jon Dressel, Bandy, Butler, Alassi and Robert Todoroff.

The program started at 7 p.m. with a dinner and ended at 11:30 with most of the crowd remaining to give their personal regards to Miss Mary Blackburn.

UF Board Oks Extra Funds for Catholic Charities

An additional allocation of $1125 for Catholic Charities to hire an extra caseworker during the summer was approved Thursday afternoon by the Tri-Cities United Fund board of directors.

The board meeting at the YMCA was presided over by N. R. Brink, president.

It was explained the Catholic Charities had asked for an additional allocation in its 1964 budget to hire a caseworker, but that no one could be found to fill the post, so the UF agency's budget was reduced. A qualified caseworker is to be employed during June, July and August.

The board was advised by the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council that it had a surplus of $975 in its allocation from the Quad-Cities, and a request to retain the fund for future use was approved by the board, providing the amount would be considered when the UF agency submits its 1965 budget.

The surplus was realized because of an unfilled staff position. The Girl Scout Council received allocations from United Funds in five areas.

1800-Acre Outdoor Classroom Under Lease

A 20-year lease on 1800 acres of public land has been granted to southern Illinois educators for a gigantic outdoor classroom. Arrangements for the unique transaction were completed at a conference attended by R. W. Burwell, regional director of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service; Arch Mehroff, manager of the Crab Orchard project; President Delyte W. Morris of Southern Illinois University; and John Rendleman, University general counsel.

The lease transfers federal land use to the Educational Council of 100, Inc., for construction and supervision of outdoor classroom facilities where Illinois public school children can explore areas once the hunting grounds of Indians and study the ways of early settlers. Much of the land has reverted, while part of the federal wildlife holdings, to the same state as it was found by the early Illinois pioneers.

The Educational Council of 100, consisting of school administrators, teachers and other interested persons from the southernmost 31 counties of Illinois, designated the SIU president as its representative in negotiations for use of the federal lands. The university, which owns about 900 acres in the Outdoor Education Center area, is supplying the present staff, using the area as a training center for students majoring in education with many specializing in camp counseling and directing.

President Morris told the federal representatives that the outdoor education program, presently operated on a limited scale, has reached more than 800 grade school pupils this year. He produced figures from the Educational Council predicting that the increased use of the land and planned facilities, children and their teachers can use the area simultaneously for one or more field trips while other groups are in residence for longer periods of study.

The land use lease is continuing on work to be done by the council and the university to develop needed facilities. This would include roadways and parking lots, water and sewer lines. However, President Morris said the man-made structures would be kept to a minimum to preserve the natural aspect of the terrain.

Besides being an education center for children, Morris said the area will be available to teachers who wish additional training in outdoor education techniques, adult groups interested in conservation, students pursuing practice teaching in outdoor education and scholars conducting research.

The Outdoor Education Center was the idea of Lloyd B. Sharp, SIU professor of outdoor education, who died suddenly last December. He vigorously championed the educational concept of personal experience rather than textbook knowledge; of real-life views rather than book illustrations.

The contract is virtually the same as the proposal by the local engineering firm of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwab which was approved by the council and then vetoed by the mayor. Stop Signs, Lead Limit

Tonight's meeting also is expected to include an ordinance setting stop signs at all intersections along Terminal avenue to slow traffic along the residential area thoroughfare, and possibly a repeat of the proposal of last week to set five-ton load limits on Cloverview area streets that are not arterial in order to halt unwanted bus traffic.

A report is expected from the Special Pollution committee on the status of the treatment plant site lease at the Granite City Army Depot which was approved last week by the council but was subject to approval by the Chicago District, U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Backs Pay Change
The city inserted a 10% figure for any increase in Depot sewage before there would be a charge. The District Engineer had suggested a 50% figure. Basically, the city is to pay the government $1600 a year to lease the 14.5-acre treatment plant site near the city's sewage pump station and is to treat depot sewage without charge, unless there is an increase in the amount.

Another likely topic for tonight's meeting could be repeat discussion of a proposed contract with the Morris Chapman law firm to handle about 65 property condemnations for the city. The council was seeking a flat rate of $250 per tract, but the firm submitted a proposal of $200 plus additional charges for court and sheriff fees.

Departmental budgets may get their initial airing tonight as the city hopes to compile the overall city budget for adoption this month. The deadline is in July.

Proposed Library Budgets
The proposed budget for the public library, approved by the library board, already has been presented to the council's finance committee.

The library budget totals $98,035, compared to last fiscal year expenditures totaling $88,031. Included are $30,495 for salaries, $7000 for books, $650 for periodicals, $900 for recordings, $1200 for binding, $500 for heat, $1000 for utilities, $650 for insurance, $3500 for maintenance and repair, $500 for furniture and fixtures; $1100 for supplies, $400 for telephone, $300 for travel and $550 for contingencies, all for the main library building.

The bookmobile budget includes $9940 for salaries, $7000 for books, $350 for insurance, $1800 for maintenance and repairs.

Variety Expected At Tonight's GC Council Session

A motor fuel tax engineering contract with the St. Louis firm of Research, Planning & Design Associates is expected to be submitted for approval at tonight's Granite City council session, starting at 8 o'clock.

It was first presented at the May 18 meeting by Mayor Davis and placed on first reading. But it was not resubmitted last week when the mayor was conventioning in New York.

The contract is virtually the same as the proposal by the local engineering firm of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwab which was approved by the council and then vetoed by the mayor.
